The big orange parrot had his existence come to an end last night. Big orange parrot is the favorite squeaky toy of my dogs Chip and Lola. Chip ate off the beak! This bird has survived at least a month in our home. After each play session we put big orange parrot in the broom closet. Last night we were negligent and let Chip play with big orange parrot unattended. Chip is notorious for ending the ability of rubber or soft toys to squeak. There was a moment of concern this morning when my husband, Mike, was not able to find a squeaky toy for the dogs to play with. Off I went to my stash of Christmas presents, knowing that I had gotten each of the dogs a new squeaky toy from Santa. Chewy, our third dog, does not really want to play, is deaf and does not find the squeak appealing and always prefers treats when it comes to gifts.

I found this pet version of Twelve Days of Christmas on-line. Unfortunately, I am not able to include the pictures of dogs and cats and a ferret receiving their gifts. You can find it at <https://www.somepets.com/the-twelve-days-of-christmas-pets-version/>.

Enjoy and Happy Holidays to you and your pets.
